TAKE ADVANTAGE OF TAX BREAKS FOR VOLUNTEER WORK

In addition to intangible benefits, charitable giving offers breaks that can help reduce the amount you owe on your federal income tax return. Along with your monetary donations, you may be able to deduct other expenses

18, 2017, is the last day for filing your 2016 return. Are you expecting an income tax refund this year? In general, you can expect your federal refund to be issued approximately 21 days after your electronically filed tax return has been accepted. However, identity theft is still a major problem, and the IRS continues to implement new strategies to protect taxpayer data. For example, if you claim the Earned Income Tax Credit or Additional Child Tax Credit on your 2016 individual federal income tax return, your refund will be held until February 15.

incurred in support of your favorite charity, such as vet bills for your local humane society, or lumber and nails for a charity that provides or improves housing.

As an illustration, in one tax court case, deductions were allowed for mileage at the prescribed IRS rate, as well as air fare, lodging, and meals during trips to benefit a charity, even though the charity did not initiate, control, supervise, or assist with the trips. Actions taken by the charity helped the court reach the favorable ruling. For example, the charity was qualified under IRS rules, and provided letters of commendation serving as introductions to other charitable groups. After the trip, the charity publicized the efforts to related charities.

Charitable deductions may also be available if you're a board member of a charity, or simply significantly involved with the charity. In another decision, the tax court noted "control" by the charity is only one of the factors considered when determining allowable deductions, meaning you don't necessarily have to be controlled or directed by a charity to claim a deduction. However, in this situation, you will have to maintain a strong affiliation with the charity, and you must be accountable to the charity.

Some gifts have special rules. For instance, education and medical expenses that you pay directly to the respective providers do not reduce your annual exclusion.

As the name suggests, the annual exclusion is a use-or-lose tax break that expires on December 31 of each year. For 2017, the annual exclusion remains $14,000.

One more tip: To get the most benefit from your charitable activities, remember that recordkeeping requirements apply to all charitable deductions, and noncash contributions greater than $250 must be acknowledged by the charity.

If you assist a charity or charities, contact us for more details about how you can claim deductions for your contributions.

WHAT'S NEW IN FINANCES: MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR RETIREMENT PLAN CONTRIBUTIONS IN 2017

Each year, the IRS makes inflation adjustments to the contribution limits for retirement plans. For 2017, the numbers barely budged. Here's an overview as you begin making 2017 retirement plan contributions.

- The IRA contribution limit when you're under age 50 remains at $5,500. You can add an extra $1,000 when you're 50 or older.
- The 401(k) salary deferral limit is still $18,000 when you're under age 50. If you're 50 or older, the catch-up contribution is $6,000.
- The Savings Incentive Match

THREE RETIREMENT PLANNING MISTAKES TO AVOID

Retirement can creep up on you. One day you're climbing the corporate ladder or building a client base for your business. Next thing you know, retirement is looming and thoughts of spending your days playing golf, pursuing a favorite hobby, or traveling to far-flung regions start calling you away from the daily grind. But without careful planning, your golden years may become tarnished. Here are three mistakes to avoid.

Failure to plan. Ideally, you started planning for retirement early in your career and your investments have

The Savings Incentive Match Plan for Employees (SIMPLE) deferral limit remains at $12,500 if you're under age 50, with a catch-up contribution of $3,000 if you're 50 or older.

- The Simplified Employee Pension (SEP) plan annual contribution limit increases for 2017 to $54,000, up from $53,000 for 2016.

been growing. What if your situation is less than ideal? Assess how much time you have until you retire. Then use an online calculator to ballpark the amount you need to save, when to take social security benefits, and your estimated retirement expenses. Schedule an appointment with a finance professional to review your numbers and help craft a plan to fit your circumstances.

Failure to save. If your employer offers a 401(k) plan, take full advantage of the employer match. "Matching" funds are contributions your employer will deposit into your account in addition to the contributions you make yourself. The idea is to sock away as much as you can, as early as you can. If you're self-employed, set up a retirement plan for your business.

Failure to consider life expectancy. These days, if you're a 65-year-old man, you can expect to live to age 83. A woman of the same age may live to age 85. Depending on your health, family history, and other factors, you could live into your nineties or beyond. As a result, your nest egg might need to last 30 years or more. While social security benefits will supplement your savings, you'll still need to set aside a healthy amount.

Having a good plan can help your retirement dreams come true. Contact us for assistance.

NEW BUSINESS: UPDATE YOUR MILEAGE REIMBURSEMENTS

The standard mileage rate for business driving in 2017 is 53.5¢ a mile, a decrease from the 2016 rate of 54¢ per mile. You can use this rate for cars, vans, pickups, and panel trucks instead of tracking the actual costs of operating those vehicles for business purposes.

In addition to the mileage rate, a separate deduction may be claimed for parking fees, tolls, interest relating to the purchase of a business automobile, and state and local personal property taxes.

The standard business mileage rate isn't applicable to automobiles used for hire, such as taxicabs, or for fleets of automobiles you use simultaneously. One other caution: You can't use the standard rate if the vehicle was depreciated by other than the straight-

COUTO & DeFRANCO have been chosen as
FIVE STAR Wealth Managers
for the fourth consecutive year!

Nelson Couto and Anthony DeFranco honored with a recognition by NJ Monthly Magazine in its selection of "Top Wealth Managers In NJ 2017"

Nelson Couto, CPA, CFP® and Anthony DeFranco, CPA, CFP®, MS (Taxation) of Couto DeFranco, P.A. have been named as 2017 Five Star Wealth Managers and featured in New Jersey Monthly magazine January 2017. Out of the 3868 wealth managers in New Jersey who were seriously considered for the award, 664 were named, which represents less than 18% of the wealth managers considered. This is their fourth time winning this prestigious award!

"We are delighted to be acknowledged as a Five Star Wealth Manager by New Jersey Monthly, and proud that the work we have done for our clients has been recognized," says Anthony DeFranco.

Couto and DeFranco are recognized as leaders in the field of wealth management. They combine their knowledge of financial planning with over 25 years as CPAs, helping their clients with their wealth management and tax planning needs, along with assisting them with their financial goals and aspirations.

They believe the best way to help clients reach their financial goals is simple: to listen. "It is important to listen to where they are today and where they want to be tomorrow," says Nelson Couto. The partners feel that clients are paying them for their knowledge- both as NJ Certified Public Accountants and as Certified Financial Planner™ professionals- so it is their responsibility to develop a financial plan that is sound, objective and honest. This model has been their secret to success.
